PREFACE

The following document is a compilation of stories from the individuals on the front lines of our mission. This is a demonstration of the will of human character – the experience, strength and invariable hope behind the means to survive.

The stories contained in this work are a companion to the statistics, outcome measurements and long-term goals of the South Middlesex Opportunity Council. The message is real.

Change is near and must materialize through proper funding and allocation. Community partnerships will emerge as the foundation for growth in this area. Collaborating for social change and economic stability is a reality but takes the will and determination of all stakeholders.

Embrace these stories and realize that we are ready, both as an agency as well as a community to accomplish our goal and solidify our stance on ending chronic homelessness.
